A NEEDLESS EXPENSE.

A bill has been introduced in the Assembly providing for re-indexing the Statutes.

SEC. 1. For the purpose of re-indexing the Statutes of the Territory of Nevada, the Statutes of the State of Nevada, including the session of 1882, the compiled laws and the resolutions contained in said Statutes, the sum of $1,500 is hereby appropriated to be paid Thomas J. Tennant as compensation therefor.

SEC. 2. Thomas J. Tennant is hereby appointed to prepare and furnish said index to the Secretary of State, accompanied by a certificate from the Attorney-General of its correctness and that the same has been compiled as required by this Act, which index and certificate shall be delivered to the Secretary of State within three months after the passage of this Act.

If the Legislature deem it necessary to re-index the statutes the bill should be amended so that the Secretary of State would be authorized to do the work without extra compensation. The State is not in a condition to justify the Legislature allowing Mr. Tennant or anybody else to lobby a bill through appropriating $1,500 to do a piece of work that officers in the building have time enough to perform. The bill should be promptly killed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Boston papers of this morning disagree as to the result of the re-election of Hoar to the U. S. Senate. The Journal (Rep.) says: "The re-election of Geo. F. Hoar is a great victory for the Republican party in Massachusetts. It baffles the cunningly contrived schemes of Governor Butler and his Democratic followers." The Traveler (Rep.) says: "The victory is at the expense of the whole party and to the imminent peril of its future ascendancy in this State, and as such is a fit subject for rejoicing only among Democrats."

Vanderbilt denies the rumor that he had offered a prize of $50,000 for a plan of a locomotive capable of hauling 15 drawing-room cars at the rate of 60 miles an hour. He says that engines leave the Grand Central depot every day that haul 13 cars at the rate of 60 miles an hour. Heavier locomotives, he declares, are not wanted.

Those who think of Alaska as a small field covered with snow-drifts will be surprised to hear that it has one river, the Yukon, navigable for 1,500 miles, and so wide along its lower course that one bank cannot be seen from the other. The distance across its five mouths and intervening deltas is 70 miles.

The fastest train on the New York Central Railroad is the Chicago and Lake Shore special, which runs to Albany 140 miles, without a stop, at the rate of 49.5 miles per hour. The first 58½ miles are made in one hour and 28 minutes.

It seems as if Professor Wiggins' weather predictions are verified. Three months ago he said a cold wave would roll over the country about this time, and it appears to be rolling, according to programme.

It is estimated that nearly $14,000,000 worth of cattle are now grazing in what six years ago was absolutely India country in Texas.

The Appeal says it is currently reported that Hon. M. D. Foley has United States Senatorial aspirations.

Intense Cold in Colorado—The Senatorial Deadlock.

DENVER, Jan. 19.

Extreme cold weather prevails here, the thermometer registering 18 below zero. Mountain towns report the cold most intense. At Georgetown it is 26 below—the coldest ever known.

The Senatorial deadlock still continues. The vote in joint session to day developed nothing new.

QUINCY, Ills., Jan. 19.

The Quincy House, built in 1882, one of the largest hotels in the city, was burned this morning. The guests all escaped unburnt. One of the servants was badly burned, and a policeman on duty fell down stairs and broke his leg.

GRIZZLED PIONEERS OF CALIFORNIA
RECALLING THE GOOD OLD DAYS OF
"FORTY-NINE."

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.

The eighth annual dinner of the Associated Pioneers was attended last evening by 75 members and their guests at Martinelli's, Fifth Avenue. The walls of the rooms were decorated with legends of pioneer times, such as "You Bet," "Shirt-tail Bend," "Coon Hollow" and "Humbug Diggings." The menu card displayed descriptive scenes of the days of '49. Hon. Dallas Strong, recently elected President of the society, delivered an address in which he welcomed the guests and members. He referred to the early days and the influence of the pioneers upon the present days. Letters of regret were read by Secretary Clark from Mayor Edson, Admiral Geo. F. Emmons, G. L. Merchant, R. L. Ogden, J. C. Fremont, F. E. Pinto, Geo. F. Hooper, Jonathan Boyd and H. M. Gibson. The toast "California" was to have been responded to by Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, but Rev. Dr. Porter was called to reply to the toast.

The following letter was received from ex-Governor Leland Stanford:

"Francis D. Clark, Secretary: In consequence of prior engagements I regret to inform you that I cannot accept the kind and complimentary invitation of your society to its annual dinner."

General Dorr, in response to, "The day we celebrate," said the discovery of gold brought people to follow almost the same paths of Spanish discoverers. He was one of those who crossed the plains. The Missouri river was the ultima thule of American discovery then. All west of that river was as new as Plymouth Rock to the Pilgrims of New England. When I arrived in California not a barrel of flour was raised in the country. He entered the cavalry branch of the confederate service while a mere boy and rose to the rank of Captain, gaining a fine record as a gallant soldier. He is a dead shot with the pistol and a man of iron nerve, and the meeting between these gentlemen which mutual friends are trying to prevent could hardly occur without bloodshed.

Democrat, causing great excitement. The facts are, Cunningham was smoking a cigar in the hotel rotunda when Gebhardt approached and charged him with causing the publication of what pretended to be a diagram of the respective apartments in the hotel of himself and Langtry. Cunningham denied that he did so, when Gebhardt called him a liar, cur, bound and scoundrel, and shaking his fist in his face, challenged him to fight. Cunningham, who is of an old and aristocratic Southern family, said he was a Southern gentleman and not versed in the science of boxing, but that Gebhardt would hear from him before long. He then withdrew to the Globe office where he had a consultation with the managing editor, who advised him to sleep over the matter and decide upon his action next day. He did so, and this afternoon John Jennings, dramatic critic of the Globe, carried a challenge from him to Gebhardt, asking him to take a pleasure trip with him to Indian Territory, where, with an attendant friend apiece, they could settle their differences like gentlemen. Gebhardt had finished writing an answer accepting the challenge, when Mrs. Langtry, who had got wind of the affair, tapped on the door of the room and gained admission. After long entreaty on her part she gained Gebhardt's promise that he would not accept the challenge, and if it was shown he had acted hastily the previous evening he would apologize for his language. Though not a fire-eater, Cunningham is known as a man of great personal courage. He entered the cavalry branch of the confederate service while a mere boy and rose to the rank of Captain, gaining a fine record as a gallant soldier. He is a dead shot with the pistol and a man of iron nerve, and the meeting between these gentlemen which mutual friends are trying to prevent could hardly occur without bloodshed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.

The worst storm within the memory of the oldest inhabitants struck this section about 3 o'clock yesterday and is still raging. A heavy fall of sleet, hail, and snow has been driving from the northwest for the last eight hours. All the ranges are thickly covered with ice and snow, and the cold is intense. Cattle and especially sheep will suffer terribly. It is safe to predict that the losses to sheep and stockmen in this region for the next 48 hours will be greater than for any corresponding length of time since the settlement of the country.

A heavy snow-storm is coming from the west. Santa Fe railway officials have advised that it is the worst storm for years. They have a large force of men at the depot ready to go west to clear the plains of Mexico.

Replying to the toast of "The Veterans of California," General Gilson said the names of Sutter, Kearny, Fremont and Stockton were names which belonged to the early history of the conquest of California. He related incidents of the conquest of San Francisco from the control of the "Hounds."

General Sweeny, in response to the toast of "Army and Navy," said toasts had been replied to in old time by the mouths of cannon, and he was one of those who could best answer by referring to the plains of Mexico.

SECRETARY TELLER ON BARBED WIRE FENCES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.

In response to a letter from the Attorney-General, asking for suggestions in the matter, Secretary Teller expressed the opinion that the enclosure of large tracts of public land by barbed wire fences or otherwise, by herdsmen or stockmen, may be enjoined as a nuisance if it becomes detrimental to the public interest to the extent of preventing settlement or interrupting avenues of commerce or interfering with mail transportation. The Secretary recommends that proper steps be taken in cases that come to the attention of the Department of Justice to stop this unlawful monopoly. He thinks the United States may resort to all methods of procedure to protect its own interests that would be available to private parties in like circumstances.

ROYAL EXCLUSIVENESS.

RICHMOND, Jan. 18.

There is considerable disappointment here on account of the utter exclusiveness of Her Royal Highness. Not even a dozen people have had a good look at Queen Victoria's daughter. This, however, is partly forgiven on account of the fact that the Princess is indisposed.

AN UNEXPECTED POLITICAL PROMINENCE OF DAVID DAVIS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.

The Times says: With the conclusion of the senatorial term of David Davis of Illinois ends one of the most curious experiments in American politics. Exactly what Davis thinks of his venture into the field of political neutrality no man but himself probably knows. His career as Senator has proved that whatever may be brought to pass in the political millennium, a Senator without a party is an anomaly, a curiosity without positive value. By a series of lucky accidents he has been given political prominence which he never expected nor merited.

LOSS OF LIFE BY THE EXPLOSION OF A LOCOMOTIVE.

SHEREVEPORT, Jan. 19.

An engine on the New Orleans-Pacific Railroad exploded at the depot at Mansfield yesterday. Engineer Shackelford, Tom Mace, fireman, Jerry Hardy, brakeman (two lastnamed colored) were killed. Mrs. Ingalls and Mr. Sampson, telegraph operator at Mansfield, were mortally wounded. Taylor, freight agent, and several others were seriously hurt. The body of Mace was blown 50 yards, passing through a plank fence. Scarcely a vestige of the wreck was left on the track. The engine had just blown its whistle to start when the explosion occurred.

PROGRESS AND PROSPECTS OF THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.

At a meeting of the Northern Pacific Directors yesterday Vice President Oakes presented his report. It says work on the Bozeman tunnel has advanced 693 feet and 296 feet remain to be cut. A temporary track is being laid over the mountains at this point until the completion of the tunnel. Coal bunkers at New Tacoma, holding 3,000 tons of coal, from which shipments could be made to San Francisco, were finished. The total number arriving at Portland last year in excess of departures was 15,113. The estimated grain surplus next season for Oregon and Washington Territory was from 150,000 to 200,000 tons. There was an increasing cattle business in western Washington Territory and northern Idaho. A trip to Alaska will be made in June. Steamers will start from Portland.

RUMOR THAT SENATOR HOAR FORGED A DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.

Hoar's election and alleged forged telegram are topics of discussion at the Capitol to-day. The friends of Crapo denounce the theory of the forger. Governor Race says: "Crapo told me he had telegraphed his friends to throw their strength for Hoar, and there is not a word of truth in the rumor of the forged dispatch."

BOSTON, JAN. 19.

Further investigation of the alleged forger of a dispatch or letter from Crapo announcing that he withdrew from the Senatorial contest shows that no actual letter or telegram from Crapo was shown, hence there was no forger, as stated in last night's dispatches. There is no question, however, of the fact that a statement was circulated at the State House that such a communication had been received, and it was generally believed.

THE MILWAUKEE HORROR—EVIDENCE AGAINST THE ALLEGED INCENDIARY.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 19.

Schiller, the alleged Newhall House incendiary, was brought back to jail quietly this morning. It is now settled beyond doubt that he never left the city, but was concealed in the house of a deputy sheriff. Evidence that Schiller removed his stock the day previous to the fire accumulates. It has now come to light that he even removed the balls of seven billiard tables before the fire.

The value of the stock is about $1,000.

Search in the ruins this forenoon resulted in finding one body, making 46 bodies recovered and three still to be accounted for.

Cigars and Tobacco.

E. Meyer is opening up one of the best stocks of imported and domestic cigars ever brought within the borders of this State. He has all kinds at all prices, two for a quarter, three for a half, one for 25 cents, or, if you want an article to make you forget all trouble, pay him 50 cents and get the best he keeps. His therefor-50-cent cigar is good enough for country folks, however, and unless you are rich five for a quarter are not bad. Meyer also carries a full line of Key West cigars, including the following favorite brands: "Partagas," "Commercial Chico," "Commercial Reina Victoria," "Carolinians," "Iskandio" and various other brands. Some one who having a desire to spend the rest of his days in happiness can do so by buying one of his Turkish pipes. The water bowl is very pretty and surmounted by a meerschaum basin for tobacco, or, if you prefer a cigar, take out the tobacco bowl and set in the cigar holder, fill the bowl with water, take a good book, jump into bed and with the pipe on the stand at the head of your bed, you can take the amber mouth-piece between your teeth and light the pipe and you are fixed. Call in and take a look at it.

Destitute Indians.

It is said that Indians in Nevada near the Oregon line are in a very destitute condition. They have nothing to eat except what they can kill in the way of rabbits and birds, and as both are scarce they are on the verge of starvation. An effort will be made in their behalf to get the Government to give them rations at Fort McDermitt during the severe cold weather.

Railroad Talk.

There is talk of reviving the California Central railroad project. Rickard, who used to be Superintendent of the Richmond, is making a report of the mineral resources on the route to an English syndicate which talks of taking hold of it. Lyman Bridges, Gov. Kinkead and others are directors.

Serious Injury.

An old man named Ware, living near the town of Genoa, while breaking a span of colts yesterday morning, was thrown from his wagon. He had his jaw broken, and was otherwise smashed up. He is thought to have been fatally injured.

RAILROAD CONDUCTORS.

A Much Abused Class of Public Servants.

The Bodie Free Press seems to have a spite against conductors in general. Hear what it says: "Who ever heard of an obliging railroad conductor? The memory of man does not run back to the time when one of these chaps turned over a seat for a tired passenger or returned a civil answer to a civil question. Some conductors are better than others, but tell it not that any of them accommodate worth a cent. The company does not hire them for that purpose."

The Free Press man is probably more familiar with bull-punchers than railway conductors, or he would never exhibit such malevolence toward a class of men who are little understood by the persons who transiently patronize a railroad. Most people think a conductor is a universal cyclopaedia, an artesian well of general information that has only to be tapped to flood the country with foreign and domestic intelligence. He must look out for exacting old women who generally appear to think they own the road because they have paid a dollar or two for the privilege of riding on it. Every trip the conductor is subjected to a thousand senseless questions repeated over and again, and if he does not turn up smiling every time he is voted a stuck-up brute who delights to air his importance. As a general thing conductors are gentlemanly in their deportment towards passengers, and if once in a while they fly off the handle it is not to be wondered at. Passengers sometimes ask favors that cannot possibly be granted. For instance: A conductor at the depot a few days ago was soundly berated because he declined to hold the train 10 minutes to please a man who wanted to wait for a friend. He politely told the man that his train must go when ordered, and that it was out of his power to delay it. Then he got a lecture for his apparent meanness, and instead of getting angry as most men would, he said "I'm sorry I can't oblige you, sir," and cheerfully sang out "All aboard," and started his train amid a shower of curses. There are exceptions, of course, but rare, when a conductor is surly and ungentlemanly, but as soon as he becomes noted for these characteristics and is deservedly unpopular, he gets "fired."

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

One of the Mammoth Engines is the Cause of a Fatal Accident.

A serious railroad accident occurred night before last, near midnight, on the Central Pacific, not far from Cape Horn mills. West-bound freight train No. 6 had one of the mammoth engines, just from the East, about in the middle of it. It was being taken West "dead." At the point named the Leviathan spread the track and climbing the outer rail went entirely clear of the road, dragging several cars with it. William H. Morgan, a brakeman well known here and in Truckee, was cut in two and mangled beyond recognition, and one of the members of the bankrupt Windsor troupe, who was working his way to Sacramento, was fatally injured, dying a short time after he was taken to Colfax. Ten head of cattle were killed outright, and 15 escaped from a car that was broken open and are now roaming in the hills. The company is going after the Pacific Coast trade in a lively manner and there will be especial pains taken to secure the good opinion of all who go that way. The officers will be found to be alive to the interests and tastes of passengers and shippers. Mr. Potter, the General Manager, and Mr. Lowell, the General Passenger Agent, were recently on the coast and their visit will bear good fruit.

AN OBSTRUCTION.

The Dam in the Truckee Keeps Trout out of the River.

The dam in the Truckee, some five miles above its mouth, prevents fish from ascending the river, and they are now gathered in immense numbers below it, seeking a way upstream. A canal runs round the dam, intended to afford passage for fish, but it is choked with ice, in fact frozen solid, so that they cannot pass, and no effort is made to open it. The result is that many female trout are losing their spawn and small fish being killed by the larger ones in their efforts to get upstream to the spawning ground in the Truckee. The dam has recently been put in by the Indian Agent, to back up water for irrigation, and is therefore an experiment. It was thought the canal would afford sufficient means of passage for the fish, and so it would, perhaps, if it could be kept clear. Just at this season trout want to go up river. They travel slowly, and would probably be two months going from the mouth of the river to Verdi. To keep the fish out of the river at this time will cause an immense depletion in their number next year, and if followed up for a few years would render them nearly extinct, as they do not breed in the lake. There is a large draft made upon them, from 1,000 to 2,000 pounds being shipped daily. It is to be hoped that the agent at the reservation will notice the obstruction and remedy it, if possible. Fish ladders are out of the question at the present time, as they would become choked with ice at the top, and thus bar passage. The only remedy seems to be to keep the canal open, which may perhaps be a difficult matter.

THE NATION'S BROADWAY.

A Successful and Efficient System of Transportation Lines.

Charles Francis Adams, junior, the railroad expert, said recently in an interview that the Broadway of this continent is the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Union and Central Pacific railroads. He said other big roads were growing up, but they were Sixth avenue and Third streets, while the great route mentioned was and always would be the Broadway which carried in its channel the burden and rush of the country's business. Mr. Adams' opinion of the Burlington route will be endorsed by everyone who rides over it. Its equipment is magnificent and no amount of business can choke it. Delays are very rare and if one line should chance to be blocked or washed away there are branch roads and cut-offs in the system which offer an outlet almost anywhere. The company is going after the Pacific Coast trade in a lively manner and there will be especial pains taken to secure the good opinion of all who go that way. The officers will be found to be alive to the interests and tastes of passengers and shippers. Mr. Potter, the General Manager, and Mr. Lowell, the General Passenger Agent, were recently on the coast and their visit will bear good fruit.

Cattle to Go.

It is estimated that Nevada has 15,000 head of beef cattle still to ship to California this winter. They are all fat and will bring good prices. Nevada will feel the benefit of it.

Alarm of Fire.

About noon to day an alarm was sounded by the fire bell, and No. 2's hose cart was run out, but there was no fire—only a burning chimney in Steele's block.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

PLUMAS ITEMS.

Driftwood From the Foot-hills of the Sierra Nevadas.

The following items were "scissored" from the Greenville Bulletin of January 17th:

The pumps at the Crescent mine were started up last Friday and are working very well, lowering the water in the shaft four feet per day. The ore continues to be as rich as before and the body increases in size with further development. Eight stamps are now running.

There are acres of wild ducks at Big Meadows.

Last Thursday near Paradise a boy named Charles Mabry met with a very frightful accident which resulted in his death. He had been out hunting ducks, and not returning after he had been expected a long time, a search was made and the dead body of Mabry was found in a ditch by his mother. He had been crawling through the thicket drawing the gun along the ground after him. His breast and shoulders were riddled with shot.

Important to Miners.

The Supreme Court of California has recently rendered a decision to the effect that the law of Congress requiring an annual expenditure of $100 on unpatented mining claims applies to gravel and placer claims as well as quartz. It has usually been considered that the law was intended for quartz claims only, but owners of all kinds of unpatented mining ground have now a warning that it is important that they shall heed.
